OUR DESI A2 GHEE MADE WITH VEDIK BILONA METHOD

1

Desi cow or buffalow gives approx. 10 litres milk a day.

2

We remove milk by our Hands, Which is not painful for the cows.

3

30 litres of milk is collected from 3 cows or buffalows.

4

Fresh milk is boiled.

5

After it cools down, it is set to make curd.

6

We Churn in a clockwise & anticlockwise direction to romove Makkhan (butter).

7

The Makkhan is simmered on low flame to get desi A2 ghee.

8

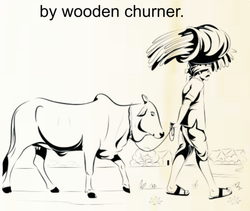

Full milk is converted into desi ghee.

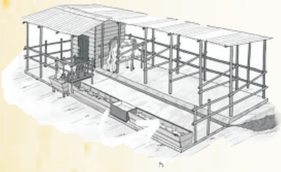

WHAT MAKES OUR DESI COW & BUFFALOW GHEE SPECIAL ?

Traditionally Churned A2 Ghee Using Bilona
Our desi cow's A2 ghee is made from the entire curd of desi cow's or buffalow's A2 milk & is churned only in traditional way by wooden churner.

Our Cows Eat Organic Grass & Feeds
The desi cows or buffalows graze on organic desi grass (Jawar, Bajra, Marvel grass). We served them good quality cow feed & specially Tulsi, Lemon grass, Drumsticks leaves, Neem leaves, etc.

Our Cow's & Buffalow's lives Freely in Shades Like natural habitat.
We provide them fresh air & ventilation, free access to food water & bed. We have enough space for them to lie down. They aquire 90% vitamin-D from the sunlight exposure that eventually gives richer nutritional value to our A2 milk & ghee.

Our Calves Get 1st Priority
The calves of our desi cow's always get priority on the milk. Once all the calves are fed, the cows are milked for producing desi A2 ghee.
